

Jeremy Cloud is General Counsel of InTown Suites in Atlanta, Georgia. He previously was a Division Counsel at Georgia-Pacific and a senior associate at Jones Day, where his practice focused on complex commercial real estate transactions, including all aspects of the acquisition, disposition, development, financing, and leasing of commercial real estate located throughout the United States.

Jeremy's finance practice included experience representing financial institutions, CMBS loan originators, and borrowers in connection with acquisition, construction and permanent loans, as well as loan restructurings, workouts, and other transactions involving nonperforming loans. He has represented a range of clients, including AIG, Bank of America, Chevron, General Electric Capital Corporation, Georgia-Pacific, Regions Bank, TD Securities and Wells Fargo Bank.

Jeremy is a member of the State Bar of Georgia and the Atlanta Bar Association and is a 2008 honors graduate of the Florida State University College of Law.