

The GAPABA Women's Leadership Network presents

TEA TALKS

Conversations with women lawyers about legal issues that matter to women.

Saturday, February 18, 2017, 1-3 PM

Featuring High Tea with

Rebecca Hanner White

Dean and J. Alton Horsch Professor of Law Emeritus, University of Georgia School of Law
First woman to serve as Dean of UGA Law School

Location

Dr. Bombay's Underwater Tea Party

1645 McLendon Ave NE, Atlanta, GA 30307

About the venue: General profits from this quaint café in historic Candler Park support The Learning Tea, which provides life scholarships to impoverished young women in India.

ADMISSION FEES*

$15 for practicing attorney GAPABA Members

$10 for law student GAPABA Members & guests of GAPABA Members

Seating is limited to 25 attendees.

Admission fee includes one pot of artisan tea per person, tea sandwiches, and house-made desserts.*